Nazis Beaten in Unusual- ly Fierce Chateau Fight

With British-American Forces in France — Welsh Tommies chased the nazis from the dining room of their chateau headquarters into the gilded Louis XIV salon and then into the bedrooms. They almost had control of the situation when German reinforcements arrived with 88 M.M. guns and opened fire. The Welsh retired into the undergrowth outside the building. Their situation was critical.

Then, just in the nick of time, a battalion of veteran American infantrymen appeared. They smashed into the chateau with machine guns, smashed a lot of furniture, and drilled a lot of holes in the walls and also in a lot of Germans. Soon there were no more Germans.

Troops Join West of Bayeux
That was how the American and British invasion troops made their second junction today west of Bayeux.

The Welshmen had a hard fight to get to the chateau in the first place. Their thrust west from Bayeux was preceded by a night long barrage by British guns.

Shortly after starting out, the British turned a corner and ran into a formation of German 88s. A few bursts of gunfire destroyed the gun crews. This cleared a path across a stream for the British. Forging it, the British prepared to attack the German command post.

The chateau proved a tough nut. The battle was like Indian warfare. Posting themselves at windows, the defenders sniped at the Tommies. A machinegunner told me the nazis first tried to make a stand in the cellar. Dislodged from there they made a fighting retreat upstairs. Then the room to room battle developed.

Somewhere in France—One unit of American paratroopers who landed deep in enemy territory has captured and is holding under guard 800 elite German paratroopers who were dropped almost on top of them.

The Americans killed hundreds more. First contact was made this morning with remnants of the American battalion, which suffered heavy casualties, when Lt. L. A. Bailing, Clinton, Mass., and Lt. Charles Senterstero, Dunmore, Pa., returned seeking food, medical supplies and ammunition.

The unit had been ranging the countryside in the flooded French marshlands for three days with only the food and ammunition they carried on their persons.

Round Up 200 More Germans
An additional 200 prisoners have been rounded up in neat-by areas by other small groups of the paratroopers.

"We lost a good many men coming down," Bailing said. "They were machine gunning us all the way down. Then bullets tipped through our cabin just before we jumped and when I went out of the plane I thought I was walking on flak."

"A lot of the boys were wounded coming down and we had only our enlisted medical personnel to care for them.

"We organized and attacked our objectives in the flooded areas and accomplished our assigned missions. We beat the best German troops they could throw at us. And we're going on and get some more."

MEN STILL DAZED
By Lewis Hawkins

combined U. S. press)

On the Normandy Beach, June 9—(Delayed) — (AP)—The men who dove ashore two days ago in this area under a deadly fire still are a bit dazed but not enough to keep them from getting on with their job.

A landing vessel bringing in a naval beach battalion struck a mine off shore and the blast killed 30 men.

"That was just the beginning," said Lt. Alvin Carpenter of Sunbury, Pa.

Mortars, rocket shells, artillery and machine guns really began opening up then.

Doctor's Charmed Life

The most charmed life in this unit seemed to belong to a physician, Lt. Paul Koen of Scarsdale, N. Y. As the men were scrambling from the ship in four or five feet of water, a mortar shell burst inches from the doctor, killing a man on his right, one on his left and two immediately behind but leaving him unscathed.

During the next tying hours while most of the men were pinned close into foxholes he had to keep moving around to tend the wounded and was constantly exposed but was not hit. One time he was carrying a wounded man when a shell killed the patient.

Mine Detectors Find Men!

Nazi sharpshooters, who have been one of the deadliest obstacles facing Americans all along this central sector so effectively that at least one unit of the 1st division resorted to the use of mine detectors to find them.

The detectors were particularly effective against Germans hidden in small dugouts entered by small sod-covered trap doors. They made a practice of leaving the door shut until the Americans passed, then opening it and taking a shot or two.

The dugouts were so ingeniously built that often it was impossible to see them even when standing nearby, but the mine detectors registered metal underground.

IT'S GUERRILLA WAR

By Don Whitehead
(Representing the combined U. S. press)

With American Forces in France, June 9 — (Delayed) — (AP)—The Germans are fighting guerrilla warfare in a desperate attempt to stop the steady progress of stout hearted American doughboys.

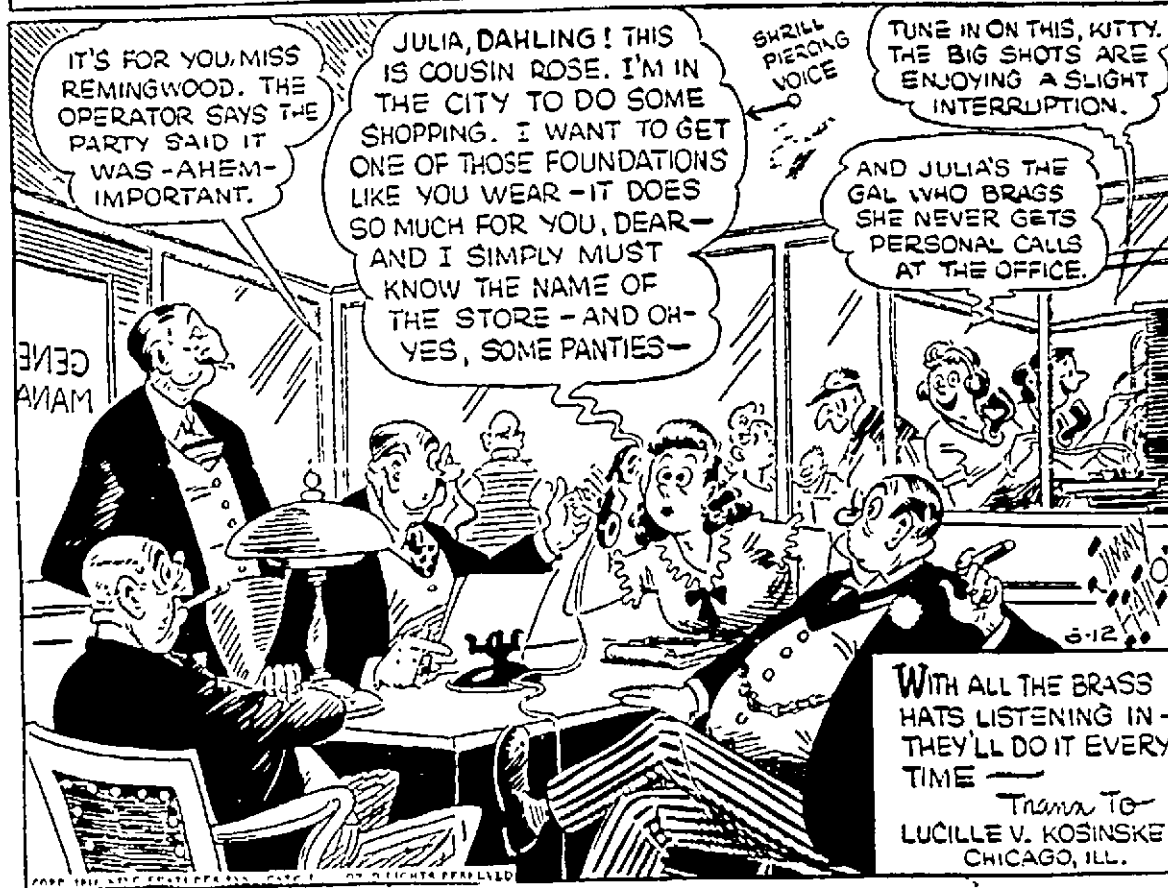

The enemy is fighting from trees, hedgecrows, buildings, farmhouses, and sending sharpshooters infiltrating our lines to harass the rear, but they have been unable to halt the advance. One sharpshooter was found garbed in the clothing of an American soldier.

The Germans are spotting our advance from dugouts. The German sharpshooting technique is to leave one or two men with machine pistols, rifles and ammunition hidden in the trees or along the thick hedgecrows which border Normandy's narrow lanes. If a large body of doughboys passes, the Germans hold their fire. They wait for small groups of men, walking singly and in pairs, and then they open fire.

Yanks Stalk Them Down

But the doughboys stalk them down, and few of the sharpshooters come back alive. Most of them are very young men in their 10s and 30s. During the night the Germans send patrols to touch our lines, but these tac-

The other night a German patrol slipped behind our lines and surrounded one unit's command post, where Major Frank Callico of Utica, N. Y., was in command. It was about 1 a. m. They sneaked in and covered Callico and his men with machine pistols.

"You are prisoners," a young German said in English, and ordered Callico and his men to accompany them. Callico grabbed the machine pistol from his captor and tried to shoot him but the gun jammed. He beat the German over the head. Another German grabbed him from behind, and Callico tossed this one over his head.

In the meantime the other boys were in action too and when the fracas was over, the major and his men had taken the Germans prisoner. Now the boys are calling him Maj. "Muscles" Callico.

WCTU Observes Flower Mission

(Contributed)

Flower Mission day, June 9th, is known as one of the red-letter days of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and was observed by the local organization, June 6th at the home of Miss Flora Seals.

The president, Mrs. Maud Hobbs announced the national hymn, which was followed by a chain of earnest prayers, an opening service most appropriate for invasion day.

In response to roll-call, members gave choice quotations on flowers or gardens. A short article from the Union Signal was also read.

Shepherd Psalm, is considered the most familiar portion of the Bible and doubtless the most often read. Miss Seals, who conducted the devotional period used as her subject "The Two Shepherd Psalms". In the New Testament, the tenth chapter of St. John has been named the second Shepherd Psalm. This is the parable of the good shepherd, spoken by Jesus in which he said, "I am the door of the sheep-fold. I am the good shepherd, the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep."

In the 23rd Psalm, David is the receiver of the Lord's mercies and in him is his confidence. Miss Seals, in a comparison of the two selections brought out both the similarities and contrasts making it a very interesting and helpful study, and closed with prayer.

Tells of Orphanage

During the business session, the treasurer told of an orphanage in Suiifu, China, started in 1939 for refugee children, by Frances Wang Liu (Mrs. Herman Liu) in memory of her husband who was assassinated in 1938 by the Japanese. One hundred or more homeless children are fed, clothed and educated in this orphanage.

Rice is one thousand times as high in Chinese money as it was before the war. The future of China is dependent on the children of today. Contributions from interested friends are sent by cable to Mrs. Liu monthly from national W. C. T. U. headquarters. Dixon Union voted ten dollars for this work.

Wintered in South
Mrs. Lillian Derr, recently returned from the southland, gave a very entertaining account of her winter spent in Tampa. Only a few of her many activities can be mentioned. She said, of the many lovely acquaintances made, one lady, 81 years old from Indiana, became her special pal. Together they found pleasure in attending a course of entertainments at the tourist camp, also missionary meetings and W. C. T. U. lectures by returned missionaries and other speakers of note, including Dr. Walter Van Kirk, Richard Maxwell and Dr. Ida Scudder. Mrs. Derr felt at home in the First Christian church and found many opportunities for service in the church school and social gatherings. Much of her time was spent in Red Cross work or crocheting for friends, reading good books and seeing some worthwhile movies. She was present at the launching of a new ship of concrete, and at one time saw an armada of war planes, 276, above Tampa.

The meeting closed with the W. C. T. U. benediction followed by a social hour while the hostess served light refreshments. Bouquets of lovely flowers bearing scripture text cards were arranged by the director of Flower Mission work, Florence Christensen, and assistant, Henrietta Dawson, for members to carry to the sick and shut-ins. The next meeting will be the annual picnic in August with Mrs. Fred Hobbs

Her parents, the George Kumps of Dixon announced her engagement to Private Fulmer, younger son of Elbert Fulmer, also of Dixon.

Katy was attending the Katherine Shaw Bethea hospital training school in Dixon before coming to GROF. Her fiancé received basic training at St. Petersburg, Fla., before being transferred to Scott Field at Belleville. Later, he was assigned to the air corps gunnery school at Hurlingham, Tex., and was stationed at Hammer field near Fresno, Calif., until receiving his new assignment in Nevada.

Because Uncle Sam has priorities on Sonny until that unconditional surrender is won, no date has been set for the couple's wedding.

MRS. GEORGE BEIER OPENS HOME FOR LAST EVENT ON WOMAN'S CLUB CALENDAR

The Dixon Woman's club completed the activities of the year at the annual June tea which was held at the home of Mrs. George Beier Saturday afternoon. The meeting had been planned for the porch and lawn but because of the unseasonably cold weather Mrs. Beier opened her home for the program and business session.

Annual reports and convention reports were the main part of the business meeting. The war service committee under the direction of Mrs. E. V. Mellett and Mrs. R. H. Harridge reported that three afghans have been completed for war nurses and that a fourth one is being made. The booth at Woolworth's store has been responsible for the sale of $1,487.10 worth of stamps and bonds during the year.

Those who are willing to help sell at the booth this summer are asked to call Mrs. O. L. Gearhart. Miss Esther Barton, president, and Mrs. Mellett, first vice-president, reported on the state convention which was held in Chicago in May. There were 2,000 delegates at the meeting. Considerable stress was made for the need of "youth protection" as it was called. The blame was laid on parental delinquents rather than on youth in many cases. Work of the FBI was also discussed and it was stated that they had found 114,000 draft dodgers since the war started.

The need for war service work was stressed at Chicago. The statement was made there that any woman could consider herself alone who might be doing something better. It was also stated that the small "pocket-book" editions were very popular with the boys, especially in submergines, and members were urged to give any which they had finished with to the war service committee to send on Scrap books of jokes or "chuckle" books as the boys have named them are also needed. Special stress will be put on these next fall, but any which can be finished this summer will be gladly accepted. It was suggested that small groups of members might get together and make books as a group rather than working as individuals.

Another important matter which was discussed in Chicago was both sides of the coming election. It is estimated that only 70% of the voting public will cast a ballot this fall and of this group 62% will be women, therefore, women will play the major role in the fall election.

Mrs. Louis Pitcher, who was chairman for the afternoon tea and program, introduced Mrs. R. J. Finley who recently won the thirteenth district prize for the best essay from a club member on the subject, "Faith That is America's." Mrs. Finley read her essay which was based on the message of unity and faith which the monument in the court house square at Oregon has for people of these times.

Special music for the program was presented by Miss Carolyn Herbst, ten-year-old accordion artist from Franklin Grove. She gave a studied performance of "Blue Danube Waltz," "Nola," and "Stars and Stripes Forever." Carol Sue Schriener of Dixon gave an impromptu song number entitled "The Puddle."

Tea was served on the porch and the guests then walked through Mrs. Beier's garden, which is especially beautiful because of the roses at the present time. The visitors were also treated to an object lesson in Victory gardening as they saw her vegetable garden set around a rose arbor and surrounded by an attractive fence and row of flowers.

MRS. DON HARRIS IS PARTY HONOREE

SUMMER-TIMELY TIPS

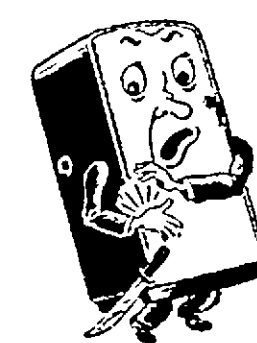

Give your refrigerator that scrubbed look

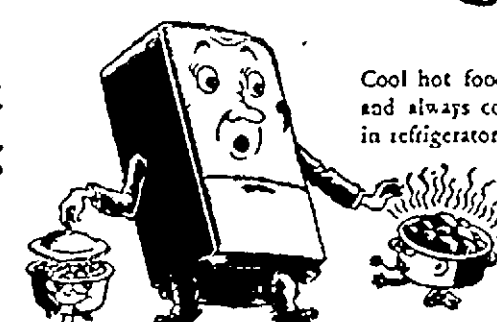

Open refrigerator only when necessary, and no longer than you must. Be sure air can circulate all around it. Leave air space between the refrigerator and the wall.

Wash your refrigerator outside with soap and lukewarm water. Wash the inside and rubber doorstrip with baking soda and tepid water. Dry and talcum strip, so it doesn't stick. Clean the coils, because that's where odors collect.

Don't chip frost off with sharp instrument. Just turn regulator to "defrost." Empty drip pan promptly, clean ice tray, clean and dry ice tray shelf... and then turn regulator up again.

Cool hot foods to room temperature, and always cover, before placing them in refrigerator.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

hibited.)

Washington—A latent but tremendous popular interest out in the country over the confused status of the Atlantic Charter as it faces leftist ideologies in war-torn Europe has been freshly detected by the senate.

An astonishing number of requests have come in for copies of a speech by New Hampshire's Republican Senator Bridges, made in the senate May 23. Recently, the number was above 80,000, and it will run above 100,000.

About 40,000 of the first requests came from Protestant groups, 10,000 more from Catholics, the rest from other sources.

The public may recall the address as a criticism of Roosevelt, giving naval vessels to Russia when Churchill would not let the Italian navy go, and inasmuch as we still face a great naval war in the Pacific in which Russia is not involved.

This was only the introduction of the Bridges' speech which reached the headlines. The bulk of it was a less sensational inquiry into the status of the Atlantic Charter and four freedoms directed to Roosevelt and asking him:

"Have you lost the initiative in Europe?"

The withdrawal of the king in favor of Crown Prince Umberto as "Lieutenant General of the Realm" has received varied interpretations. An Italian-American labor leader, in Boston asserted the king was under Communist influence, but Umberto's position is being described as fascist by the liberal press.

The pronouncements of the Vatican immediately after the freeing of Rome revealed no inkling of its political knowledge or intentions.

The Communist leader, Browder, has broadcast on our radio domes-and of their own volition—even if it is only parroting the old prescribed greeting.

It may well seem like the beginning of the end.

tically an implication that some Catholic churchmen have accepted the validity of Russian indications of espousal of religion as against the atheism and agnostic ideologies formerly promoted and imposed on the Russians by the state. Incidentally, but not necessarily significantly, Browder closed his address with an appeal to God in some connection or other.

The only thing clear, therefore, is that there is confusion—therefore no agreement. Valid and authentic interpretations beyond this may be a long time coming.

It was supposed to be a laboratory for working out the conflicts, but the political re-organization so far has been too difficult for words, at least any official words from Roosevelt, Churchill, or Stalin.

The Communists are in control of almost all the European underground movements, and are, therefore, the most active political influence we are facing not only in Italy, France and Poland, but throughout Europe.

Always in the past, they have used the words "freedom" and "democracy" in a far different sense than we do, so documentary evidence thus far has done little to change the confusion. Most Communists still look upon freedom as meaning just one thing—freedom from fascism if not capitalism, or, in fact, freedom from democracy as we understand it.

Also, Russia in the past has changed its ideological course temporarily with its fingers crossed behind its back, solely to get its way, and when this purpose was accomplished, it would revert to its original purpose. This is the precise official explanation of Stalin's friendship neutrality treaty with Hitler when Poland was invaded and Britain was drawn into the war.

Suspensions, therefore, are natural and will not easily be dispelled. If the transferring of an unexplained title of "Lieutenant General" from the king to Umberto, (later to be passed, some say, to Umberto's son) becomes a cover for an Italian Communist radical grasp for power, it is one thing. If it becomes only a cover for the confusion (as it most likely is) then the fruits of war are being ripened only on the outside peeling, and worms at the core will continue to work.

Certainly no evidence behind the news suggests anything more than dickerings for control among the politicians of Italy now, evidence which has been available also concerning Poland, France, etc.

Yet in Italy, there is one force which is certainly Christian in its ideals—the ideals which Roosevelt rightly described May 27, 1941, (quoted in the Bridges speech) as being "the dignity of the human being, of the majesty of the human soul, in a world where moral standards are measured by treachery and bribery and fifth columnists." (The president was then speaking of a Communist dictatorship.) It was this point of Christian ideology which brought so many inquiries for the Bridges speech.

The Vatican is not only "the best informed institution on earth," but well might be a great influence in Italy, Poland, France, etc., where there seem to be few Roosevelt Democrats, and as far as I can see it, the main power present to be used for maintenance of the Christian ideology along with the Church of England and various Protestant denominations on the continent.

DADS' DAY Sunday, June 18th

Fathers in the service of our country should be the first to share our thoughts in these momentous times. However great our tribute may be, it still is inadequate recognition of the debt we owe to America's fighting sons.

Neither should we overlook the splendid work Dad is doing on the home front in buying bonds and otherwise in providing our fighting forces with the sinews of war.

DAD WOULD ENJOY A LEISURE COAT AT . . . $11.75

God's Front Porch

A Novel
By KETTI FRINGS

PINKY HARRISON was one of those who was sure he was not going to die. You'd watch him, after chow, at night, lying on the sand, propped on one elbow, his hair matching the flame of the desert sunset, and listen to the life he poured into that tiny harmonica and think, "Good God, how can anyone be that young!" There was youth in his eyes and his freckles and in the songs he played . . . and the others who sat around listening marveled, remembering that they had been that way, too, when they first came out here. He was so eager, confident: "Wait till I set eyes on my first German! Promised to send a scalp back to Martha!"

Pinky was always talking about his Martha, just as though he were going to see her tonight, tomorrow, next day. Grinning, his eyes dancing. Playing his songs to her, reading her letters over and over. Martha was going to have a baby any day now. "Can you beat that! A baby—me, twenty-two years old and a family man already!" He loved the idea. He bored everybody to death with it.

Not quite "bored." More realistically, it disturbed them a little. Pinky had only been here three weeks. Most of the others had been here three months. They had learned to be afraid, and that's what made them old . . . and Pinky was not afraid and still young, and that's why they worried about him. Couldn't he think, couldn't he realize how slim the chances were? No, sometimes they doubted that Pinky thought at all. He just talked and grinned and played that damn harmonica. You'd have thought Pinky had gone to a picnic.

THE night of the fourth, it was different. Lord knows how long the second barrage continued. But he still wasn't afraid—only eager. At ten-two, when the answering fire began, he dropped into a foxhole . . . only because Steve Brannigan grabbed his arm and pulled him there.

"We weren't supposed to come this far, Pinky. Not yet."

"Hell, the object is to get there, isn't it?"

Then suddenly there was no more conversation between them. They dug into the sand, laid flat, and this time Pinky's heart beat fast. He felt the sand in his mouth. And nearby a fountain of it spouted skyward, and some of it fell on him, sharp, gritty, like a fountain of ground glass. He could feel it on his neck, arms. The earth rocked under him. The noise tore at his eardrums. The flashes hurt his eyes. Even when he closed his eyes, the flashes still hurt. And for the first time Pinky knew what war was. But he wasn't frightened.

THE sudden silence was almost as terrifying as the barrage

Afterwards Pinky remembered that he had reached the top. There had been the close, sharp, multiple report of a machine gun. Then the foxhole again, the close near feel of the sand . . .

had been. And now the night seemed black, too black. But in a moment the work must begin.

"Pinky . . . Steve's voice shook slightly."

"Yeah?"

"You all right?"

"How the hell do I know? He tried to laugh as he said it."

"Pinky . . . am I lying on your foot?"

"I don't know . . . I don't think so."

"Well, then . . . there's somebody else in here with us."

"Dead?"

"Not yet, Pinky . . ."

"Shut up . . . I'm counting. Sixty more seconds and we move on."

"Oh, Christ, Pinky, I can't."

"Shut up."

There was a silence. Pinky wasn't really counting. He didn't have to count to know when a minute was up. He was moving his fingers on the cold steel of his gun. He felt numb, doubted if he could ever move again.

"Get your rifle ready? Bayonet in?" he asked finally.

"I can't, Pinky . . . don't you hear him? Lean close. He's whispering something. Water—I guess he wants water."

"No time for that. He must be hard about this, he must be."

"I'm not going. Maybe I could do something for him," Steve said.

"You yellow coward."

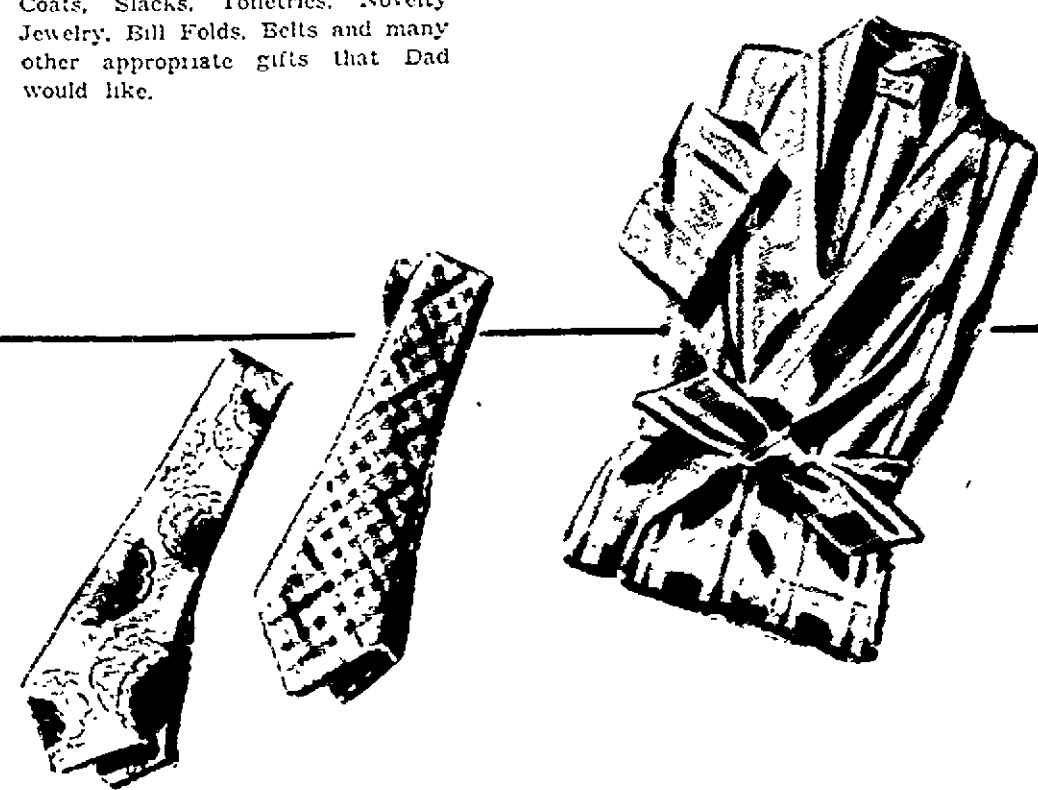

"Not that. Suppose it was you, or me—"

They heard a low whistle from somewhere.

"I'm going!" Pinky crouched, ready to move up over the embankment. "So long, yellow."

Afterwards he remembered that he had reached the top. There had been the close, sharp, multiple report of a machine gun. Then the foxhole again, the close near feel of the sand . . . and his head lying in warm wetness.

5TH WAR LOAN

STARTS TODAY!

IT'S FOR INVASION!
FOR VICTORY!
FOR YOUR BOY!

Invasion barges, tanks, field guns cost thousands upon thousands of dollars. Invasion demands more and ever more fighting equipment to insure Victory. The money must come from every patriotic American at home.

BOOST YOUR PLEDGE

As America faces its "Zero Hour", our armed forces march unflinchingly forward. They are ready to die if need be.

And now, on the home front comes the command—back up our fighting men with the biggest War Loan of all. This is the "Zero Hour" Drive. Our duty is clear...

If you are on the payroll savings plan, buy extra bonds in this drive.

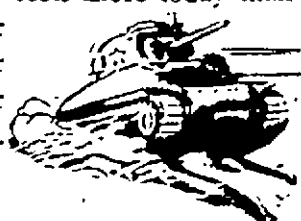

If you buy War Bonds regularly at your bank or Post Office, double your War Bond investment. But, whatever you do, whoever you are, ask yourself this question: "What have I done today that some mother's son should die for me tonight?" Then buy your extra $100—or $200—or $300 Bond. It's for Victory!

WELCOME THE VICTORY VOLUNTEERS

when they come to tell you about War Bonds

Now, as America goes all out for invasion—your dollars must join the fight, too! No matter how much you have done—you must do more! It is a solemn duty for every American to buy MORE War Bonds during the 5th WAR LOAN DRIVE—to keep the attack going—to help safeguard your country and your own boys in the fight. The job is big—you've got to dig!

It's a question of simple arithmetic: War costs more today than ever—and during invasion, the demands for supplies reach their peak. A heavy bomber costs about $250,000. A 155 mm. howitzer costs $23,000. Fighter planes cost $50,000.

Back the Attack! — BUY MORE THAN BEFORE!

Fans Advised Not to Count Yankees Out of Flag Race

World Champs Were in Similar Slump Last July, But Copped

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

They may be slipping, but don't count the world champion New York Yankees out of the running in the American league baseball race—not yet, anyway.

The Yanks lost a doubleheader to the Boston Red Sox yesterday, 2 to 1 and 4 to 1, extending their string of defeats to 11 in their last 12 starts. This is a record more characteristic of a tailend club than a pennant contender, but one need only recall last July when the Yanks were in the throes of a somewhat similar slump. Then just when things looked blackest they won eight in a row and followed through by winning the flag and the world series.

Tex Hughson and Clem Hausmann pitched the Red Sox to their double triumph. Hughson's effort was a three-hit masterpiece.

Meantime the St. Louis Cardinals, National league champs, gained two games over their nearest competitors by whipping Cincinnati twice, 3 to 1 and 4 to 1, while the Chicago Cubs shut out Pittsburgh twice, 5 to 0 and 1 to 0. The Cards set a league record for double plays in a doubleheader by making nine twin killings, four in the opener and five in the nightcap. Walker Cooper, Whitey Kurowski and Danny Litwiler hit consecutive homers in the second game. Paul Erickson turned in a two-hitter and Bob Chipman a five-hitter for the Cubs as they blanked the Pirates.

Tigers Stop White Sox
The Chicago White Sox beat Dizzy Trout, 4 to 2, for their eighth straight triumph in the first game of a twin bill with Detroit, but had their streak snapped in the afterpiece when Stubby Overmire won, 1-0, on Rudy York's ninth inning single. Detroit thus climbed into third place as the Sox went into a fourth place tie with the Yanks.

A grand slam seventh inning home run by pinch hitter Gene Moore gave the first place St. Louis Browns a split with Cleveland. The Indians easily took the opener, 13 to 1 behind Mel Harder but Moore's round-tripper in the nightcap gave Bob Muncie and the Browns a 4 to 2 triumph.

The New York Giants swept a doubleheader from the Phillies, both by scores of 6 to 5 with the second game going 12 innings. Bobo Newson and Luman Harris, aided by Joe Berry's relief pitching, twirled the Philadelphia Athletics to a double win over Washington, 6 to 1 and 6 to 5, pushing the Senators back into the cellar.

Brooklyn and the Boston Braves divided their twin bill. The Dodgers won the opener, 5 to 4, in 10 innings. The Braves then broke a six-game losing streak by taking the nightcap, 8 to 5.

Farmers Are Doing Great Producing Job

Boston, June 12.—(AP)—The nation's 6,000,000 farmers "have produced more food in the past three years than during any other period in history," according to Judge Marvin Jones, National War Food Administrator. He spoke at the opening of a two-day conference of the United Retail Food Industry conference yesterday.

Information Missing on Sailor's Death

Sheffield, Ill., June 12.—(AP)—A coroner's inquest failed to disclose information regarding the death of a man identified as Mack Vernon Davis, seaman 2/c, U. S. N., whose body was found on the Rock Island Railroad tracks near here Saturday.

Coroner A. A. Meyer of Bureau county said the man apparently had been dead about a week when found by a section crew. Meyer said Davis probably had fallen from a westbound train. His papers showed he had been to Huntington, W. Va., on furlough and was returning west apparently to his base at Oxnard, Calif.

Wolverines Take Big Ten Baseball Crown: Unbeaten

Chicago, June 12.—(AP)—Unbeaten Michigan's capture of the Big Ten baseball title last Saturday—the eighth conference crown of the school year for the Wolverines—wasn't exactly a wartime quirk for genial Ray Fisher, dean of the league's diamond mentors.

When his Wolverines twice nipped Purdue, 4-2 and 3-2, to close unbeaten in nine starts, it was the ninth time in 24 seasons a Fished-coached team grabbed the conference title. No other conference coach comes close to this record over the same period.

Since Big Ten competition opened in 1896, Illinois won or tied for 19 championships, while Michigan has taken 15—but the Wolverines were out of the conference for six seasons. The closest the Wolverines came to defeat during the conference season was a 4-4 deadlock with Illinois which wound up third in the final standings behind Northwestern. The Wildcats, who took the runner-up spot with eight wins and two defeats, ended their complete season Saturday with an 11-inning, 7-6 triumph over Notre Dame.

Detroit, June 12.—(AP)—Top-seeded Francisco Segura of Miami, Fla., and Pauline Betz of Los Angeles are idle, but first-round matches in the national clay court tournament today at the Detroit Tennis club should indicate where the favorites may expect trouble before next Sunday's finals.

Second ranking Billy Talbert of Indianapolis is paired with Edward Donovan of Detroit in the men's division, and Doris Hart of Miami, No. 2 to Miss Betz, has a date with Joanne Dunn of Des Moines, Ia. Six other seeded players are in action.

Philadelphia, June 12.—(AP)—The professional golfing brigade richer by $17,500 in war bonds—of which Detroit's Sam Byrd snatched $6,700—headed for New York and new gold and glory today.

Next step on the play-for-play parade is the Wykagyl club, just out of Gotham, where a $13,333 war bond tourney for the Red Cross is scheduled Thursday through Sunday.

Byrd, the ex-outfielder of the New York Yankees, who turned pro in 1937, won the Inquirer's 72-hole medal play marathon here yesterday with 274—seven strokes ahead of second place Craig Wood of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and 10 under par.

Sgt. E. J. Harrison of Little Rock finished third with 283, and Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Ind., was fourth with 287. Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Philadelphia and Byron Nelson of Toledo, stars of the winter circuit, were next with 288 and 289 respectively.

Knacks' Reversal of Form Pleasing to Baseball Fans

The newly organized Dixon Knacks showed a reversal of form Sunday afternoon at the Reynolds athletic field when they swamped the GROF team in the latter's first contest of the season by a score of 17 to 7. The Knacks were a greatly changed team over their initial trial one week previous and played a fine variety of baseball.

Two valued additions to the team stood out as a bolstering influence. Prestegard, who caught in the first section of the contest, drove one well over the left field wall to open the second inning when the locals scored three tallies to take the lead. On his next appearance he doubled and on the third was responsible for a single. Boyer, a new recruit who reported to Manager H. Emmert for practice, was sent to the mound in the seventh and won the immediate favor of the fans. In addition to a fine job of pitching, he banged out a homer over the left field fence in the seventh.

Big Sixth Inning
The sixth was the big inning for the Knacks when they sent over an even half dozen markers. Wagner, on the mound for GROF surrendered in favor of Davis who completed the frame after which Dick took over and terminated the afternoon's entertainment. The teams lined up as follows:

GROF—Dick, 3b; Saunders, 2b; Rofferty, cf; Knetech, 1b; Davis, c; Urish, ss; Nicklaus, rf; Scrivens, lf; Wagner, p.

Knacks—Sloan, 2b; Utz, ss; Woodratt, 1b; Prestegard, c-rf; Stump, c; Webster, cf; Walters, 2b; McDonald, lf; Walker, rf-c; Meinke, p; Boyer, p.

AMERICA ON PARADE

A BOUQUET to Mrs. R. J. Finley of Dixon for the prize-winning essay she wrote for the district Woman's Club. The competition was last April and her manuscript about "Faith That Is America's" was judged the best and was announced at the district meeting in Mt. Carroll.

THE most commendable part of it all is that she took a nearby object, the monument on the court house square at Oregon, and built around that. Many a person would say, "Oh there's nothing around HERE to write about." She spent part of her life in the south and the idea of the Union and Confederate soldiers being side by side appealed to her. Unfortunately for Dixon the Finleys will be leaving soon for Kankakee, where Mr. Finley has already gone to manage the Ford Hopkins store there.

WOULD you like to read a blue-ribbon essay and see how the thoughts have been developed around something which is familiar to nearly everyone in this community? Here it is—"Have you, in the transition from boom-time through depression and into war, lost some of your faith in America? If so, come with me to the Court House Square in Oregon, Oglio County, Illinois and renew your faith. There stands a noble monument, mute evidence of the deep and profound faith of Oglio County, in Our United Nation. I call it 'The Unity Monument'."

The majestic repose the Union Soldier stands to the right, the Confederate Soldier to the left, united by a semi-circle with Justice and her scales between. Stop for a while here and consider the mighty advance our United States has made since 1865. Only AFTER the Civil War did we become completely a united-states in spirit and in fact—1865-1944—it is a very short while for a few states, welded, together, AFTER a bitter civil war, to become a great world power.

HOW did we achieve this envied position among world nations? By our geographical positions? By our natural resources? By our people? None of these would be enough. Above all these there stands the Constitution of the United States and the Bill of Rights!

"MAJORITY rule with the people owning their government, instead of being owned by their government.

"AMERICA is not Utopia and all the while the majority rules, the minority beats its breast and laments. ALWAYS in a democracy the majority must rule and the minority must be allowed to voice its laments.

"OGLE County Honors Her Sons", the inscription reads Oglio County honors her nation and Oglio County proclaims to her nation and to all the world—America is united forever, not against the nations of the world, but AMONG them, "E Pluribus Unum".

"AT first I called you the Unit. Memorial, but now, I know you are more. Unity alone would never guarantee survival. Unity must ever be coupled with faith. So you are really the Unity and Faith Memorial. There the two of you stand, looking into the far beyond. Your faces are severe, you seem to be meditating—in God We Trust.

"I WISH every one in the world could see you. If I could, I would put your picture in every newspaper in America! In every strike bound war plant—today, perhaps the sight of you might arouse in others the realization that in this changing world around us, it is imperative that we must keep to our Constitution in all things great and small.

"WE Americans often are accused of trying to lay our form of government on other nations. No, we only wish we could share with others the fruits of freedom we enjoy with our government—of the people, by the people, for the people.

"BOUND in a horrible war, to which we must give our every effort, we must carry on in good faith, sustained by our knowledge that with Our Constitution and Our Bill of Rights our future generations will be secure.

"YOU in the Blue, if you could speak to our men and women in the armed services of America, you could tell them

Tradition

Chanute Field, Ill., June 12.—(AP)—An old Army tradition made Pvt. Leon Stewart, formerly of Casey, Ill., $70 richer today.

Custom decrees a newly-commissioned officer must give a dollar bill to the first enlisted man to salute him. Pvt. Stewart was walking near the barracks of a group of cadets who a few minutes earlier had been commissioned second lieutenants.

Out came 70 new officers. Pvt. Stewart used one hand to salute, the other to collect.

what happened AFTER the war you won. Where were you during the Reconstruction Era? You were home, you were tired, you had done your job. Our men are saying now, "We have a job to do. If only you could warn—they have TWO jobs to do. One to Win the War, the other to Win the Peace. They must not just Win the War. They who have been part of the war, must raise their voices loud, strong and incessantly to the plans of peace. They alone know the full meaning of War. Experience has been their teacher.

"ISOLATIONIST! America First! The cry rose from section to section against section in the pre-war battle!

"THE man in Blue and the man in Gray, standing on the Court House in Oregon, Illinois are united there for America First and always First, but not for America Only.

"KEEP Faith with Them.

"OGLE County Honors Her Sons. Oglio County's Sons Honor their Nation for already there are new names to add to those on the bronze plaque of the Unity and Faith Memorial."

War Workers Not To Waste Cars

Washington, June 12.—(AP)—ODT Director J. Monroe Johnson said today that if war workers as a group have the idea—as charged by the American Automobile Association—that they can willfully waste cars and tires, "they should be disbanded of it."

Johnson's comment was prompted by a report in which the association president, Thomas P. Henry, said that war workers generally are reckless, fast drivers with a supreme indifference to car conservation.

Johnson said that undoubtedly there had been violations of the recommended 35-mile-a-hour speed limit and other measures taken to preserve cars and tires,

Son of Coroner of Oglio Co. Suicides

Ralph Atkins, 32, son of Dr. J. C. Atkins of Forreston, Oglio county coroner, died at 8:35 o'clock Saturday night at St. Francis hospital in Freeport from a bullet wound authorities said he had inflicted on himself Friday afternoon at his farm home a mile west of Forreston.

Stephenson county authorities said Atkins shot himself with an old .32 caliber revolver when deputies went to his home to question him concerning a charge made Thursday by a 15-year-old Freeport youth. He had gone into the house to change his clothing while officers waited in the yard.

Bullet Below Heart
The bullet entered just below the heart, punctured a lung and was embedded in the flesh just under the skin on the right side of the back.

Atkins, a 1931 graduate of Forreston high school, attended Mt. Morris college. He had been engaged in farming west of Forreston for several years.

Survivors include the widow, the former Mary Ellen Eakle of Forreston; an adopted son, Richard; his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Atkins of Forreston; two brothers, Harry Atkins, druggist at Forreston, and Charles Atkins, who is with the navy in the Southwest Pacific, and two sisters, Mrs. Francis Michaud of San Carlos, Cal., and Mrs. Lawrence Hinde of Rockford.

INVASION SCRUTINIZED
Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, June 12.—(AP)—SHAEP censors scrutinized 2,500,000 words in the first five days of the invasion. An official estimated they deleted an average of less than one word from every hundred. They also viewed 35,000 still pictures and 106,000 feet of movie film.

but as for war workers being the worst offenders he had seen no evidence differentiating drivers by groups. He commented that if war workers had the mistaken idea of supreme privilege, they should be straightened out.

RATIONING

came over on The Mayflower

They Rationed Everything

The Pilgrims knew they were ill-prepared for one of the cruellest winters that resolute men, women and children ever had to face. Foreseeing trials that would challenge their endurance, they treasured their scanty store of food and rationed every helping.

But, when a Spring and Summer of strenuous labor rewarded them with an abundant harvest, the Pilgrims were grateful—but not alone for food. They felt they were well on their way toward an established home in a new world, bright with freedom, security and a promising future for their children. America's goal has never changed. And for such a goal rationing is a small price to contribute. "Food Fights For Freedom".

In addition to supplying the armed forces with glider and bomber fuselage frames, wing parts, gun turret parts and foodstuffs, Anheuser-Busch produces materials which go into the manufacture of: Rubber • Aluminum • Munitions • Medicines • B Complex Vitamins • Hospital Diets • Baby Foods • Bread and other Bakery products • Vitamin-fortified cattle feeds • Batteries • Paper • Soap and textiles—to name a few.

Ceiling Prices on Used Cars Fixed by OPA Order Saturday

Rule Becomes Effective July 10; Affects Dealers, Private Sales

The office of price administration Saturday ordered price ceilings for used automobiles to go into effect July 10. The order applies both to dealers and to private persons selling the family car. There will be two sets of ceilings, one covering cars sold "as is" and one applying to cars sold with a warranty attached after having been put in good condition. Prices will be on a level of those existing in January, 1941.

Since the war stopped the manufacture of new automobiles prices for used cars have soared. OPA Director Bowles in issuing the order said that in some parts of the country "used cars three years old bring today two or three times more than similar cars bought before the war."

Pressure to Raise Prices "I think that indicates what pressures there are today to push prices up and what might have happened in other fields if there had been no controls," he said.

The OPA order sets forth the dollar and cents prices for 23 makes and about 6,000 models built from 1937 through 1942. Cars built before 1937 may not be sold at prices higher than the comparable 1937 models.

Ceilings are fixed at different levels for three broad geographical regions. Region A covers all states east of the Mississippi. Region C covers Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada and Arizona. Region B covers all other states. Ceilings are lowest for region A, highest for region C, and approximately half way between the two levels for region B.

Shows Typical Schedule Typical of the prices established under the ceilings are those shown for the Ford V-8 de luxe fordor sedan:

Model	As is	Warranty
1942	$990	$1,238
1941	$15	1,056
1940	700	875
1939	555	691
1938	405	506
1937	330	430

Ceilings on the "as is" cars will drop at the rate of 1 per cent every six months. All persons who are not dealers must sell at the "as is" price, but dealers who maintain repair facilities may sell on either basis.

When a sale has been completed the buyer and seller must fill out a transfer certificate and turn this in to the buyer's local war price and rationing board.

Based on List Prices Although the ceiling prices generally are based on the January, 1941, prices there are some deviations. For 1912 models the ceilings are the same as the maximum prices for new passenger cars as of Feb. 29, 1941. Ceilings for the 1937 through 1941 models were calculated by relating the used car market levels of the first quarter of 1941 to the original factory list prices new for the three most popular cars and applying the percentages thus obtained to the

TODAY on the HOME FRONT

by JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

Washington, June 12—(AP)—If you're paying on a declaration of estimated federal income tax—because of income not covered by the withholding system—you may want to file an amended declaration and change your June 15 payment.

There won't be any penalty if the recent change in the law results in an underestimate of your tax as finally figured next March. However, you might find a new definition of dependent to include any close relative dependent for more than half of his or her support during the year. The only other requirement is that the dependent must have less than $500 of income during the year. (Income of more than $500 makes a person a taxpayer, regardless of age).

This change removed the age limit. Now a taxpayer sending a son or daughter to college may take an exemption for the child even if more than 18 years old.

The new definition also works out in these ways:

1. A full-year exemption is granted for a child born any time during the year.
2. If a dependent dies during the year, the exemption holds for the entire year.

Similarly, if a wife or husband dies during the year, the full-year exemption is allowed.

There won't be any new official work sheets to guide you in amending your estimate. So follow this method of figuring your tax:

(Remember that the first $1,500 of armed service pay still is exempt completely).

For a starter, subtract 10 per cent of income (or $500 if income is $5,000 or more) for the new standard deduction. The remainder is taxed in two ways:

Normandy Peasants Overjoyed at the Americans' Arrival

Treated Well When They Obeyed the Nazi Commands

By DON WHITEHEAD

With the American Army in France, June 7—(Delayed)—The rugged, independent peasants of Normandy, who refused to knuckle under to German authority, are overjoyed at the arrival of the Americans.

There are 1,900 civilians still living in a village, from which the doughboys today cleared the last snipers, digging them out of basements, churches, bedrooms and shops from which they were firing through windows at our advancing troops. Most civilians gathered in a large farmhouse at the edge of town to escape the fighting in the streets.

Artillery Silent

Despite the fact that Germans were sniping from civilian homes, only one civilian was killed. The lack of more civilian casualties could be attributed largely to the fact that the artillery did not open fire on the houses. Men, women and children gathered in the farm yard to chat with the troops, stopping to get water from a pump which was kept busy all day.

Monsieur Hubert, Mayor of the town, said the Germans with few exceptions treated the people reasonably well if they did what the nazis ordered. The men were all forced to work for the German Army three days a week, and most of them were employed in the past months helping build beach obstacles, pillboxes, block-houses and dugouts, which failed to stop the doughboys' assault across the beaches yesterday.

Germans Act Correctly

Unlike the Germans in North Africa, Sicily and Italy, the Germans who were driven out of this sector paid for what they got from the farmers and townspeople, and under strict orders, acted very correctly.

The mayor said there was one rape and one robbery committed by the soldiers, but the perpetrators were not Germans. He said the people of this sector, which is a rich farmland specializing in dairy products, have plenty to eat. But they are eager for such luxuries as sweets and cigarettes.

The Germans didn't disturb the herds of cattle and few of the animals were killed during the fighting.

TIME TO QUIT

Hartford, Conn.—Observing that "women are still women", Cornelius A. Moynan, unemployment compensation commissioner, has reversed the decision of an examiner who refused to award compensation to a 19-year-old girl war plant worker who quit her job because a man working near her habitually used "profane and indecent language". Boyland said the girl had "good cause indeed to quit".

BEHIND THE TIMES

Bedford, Ind.—The morning of the invasion nobody could get the Catholic church bells to ring out the news. The electric ringing device had stuck.

Thursday night the bells abruptly started ringing and rang for half an hour.

New York and Texas Top Highway Bill

Washington, June 12—(AP)—New York and Texas would be the biggest beneficiaries of federal aid in the postwar highway building program under terms of the revised $1,500,000,000 bill approved by the house roads committee, Chairman Robinson (D-Utah) said today.

The Empire state would get $30,195,000 yearly and Texas $29,547,000 Robinson disclosed.

Under the new bill federal money would be disbursed to states on a ratio based on one-half population, one-fourth area and one-fourth post-road mileage. Previously each of these factors received one-third weight.

The measure also provides that during the first year of the program states must provide 40 per cent matching funds and thereafter 50 per cent. Previously the federal government contributed 75 per cent and the states only 25 per cent.

Other states near the top in allocations proposed under the new system included: Illinois, $21,576,000; Missouri, $14,519,000; Indiana, $12,101,000; Wisconsin, $11,557,000; Iowa, $11,558,000.

Politics Daily Review of Activities of Those Seeking Office

BY JACK BELL

Associated Press Staff Writer

With the southern dissatisfaction assuming the proportions of an organized revolt, administration forces maneuvered today to get a set of fourth-term supporting electors on to the Texas Democratic primary ballot.

The Democratic state executive committee met in Dallas to canvass filings of office aspirants, with a demand expected from supporters of President Roosevelt that 22 electors named by their separate convention be listed on the July 22 ballot, along with those chosen by the regular party meeting, for the people to choose between them.

Anti-administration regulars, who picked a group and elected them not to support the party presidential nominee unless the two-thirds nominating rule is restored and other conditions are met, contended that their action constituted the final choice of electors. Action either way by the executive committee may plunge the issue into the courts.

Party leaders in Washington are more worried about the Texas situation than that in Mississippi and South Carolina, where somewhat similar actions have been taken by Democratic conventions, because they suspect the root of the trouble lies in the Lone Star state.

Their suspicions were confirmed to an extent when a group of anti-administration Democrats, meeting at Shreveport, La., last week, named E. B. Germany, who managed the unsuccessful presidential campaign of former Vice President John M. Gurnea in 1910 as chairman on a several-state organization.

Meanwhile politicians quickly interpreted the appearance of the first of a series of eight articles Wendell L. Willkie has written on his ideas for the Republican platform as indicating that the 1910 presidential nominee intends to support the ticket this year if he can see his way clear to do so.

Since his withdrawal after his defeat in the Wisconsin primary, Willkie has been silent about his plans. His friends say that Willkie wants to go along with the nominee, but desires assurance that the platform declarations—especially with reference to foreign policy—are not a mere formality which might be ignored by the GOP nominee.

In his first article, Willkie dealt with federal vs. state powers, a favorite topic with both Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, who has the support of more instructed convention delegates than any other candidate, and of John W. Bricker of Ohio, second in strength.

Willkie took a middle road, advocating the substitution of government by caprice and unlimited discretion, rather than any "weakening" of federal powers. He said sufficient authority must be left in Washington "to enable the United States to live and lead in the family of nations".

Lighter Asbestos Yarn Developed to Fireproof Clothes

New York — (AP) — A new asbestos yarn which makes asbestos clothing only half as heavy as formerly has been announced by the United States Rubber company.

The yarn is made by blending asbestos fibers with a small percentage of cotton, which gives more strength and weaving qualities.

Used in Fire Fighter Clothes

This asbestos yarn makes the fire fighting suits, helmets, shoes, and gloves of the air forces, army, navy, and engineers. The entire output, which is centered at Hogsansville, Ga., is going to the military.

After the war this fabric may be used to make ironing board covers on which a hot iron can be left without starting a fire, the announcement said. Other uses are pot and pan holders, gloves to protect a cook's hands from oven heat, jumper suits, aprons and other protective garments for steel mills and foundries, and bags for sweepers that pick up hot coals.

Water Does Not Damage It

The fabric also will form upholstery for seats in lounge and smoking cars and for other furniture cover purposes. It will make asbestos awnings. The fabric is not damaged by water.

The navy is using the fabric for insulating tape for electrical cables. It is used for fuel hose in combat tanks, and for a variety of heat conducting, or fire prevention jobs in planes.

Michigan Farmer, Worried by OPA Inquiry, Suicides

Reading, Mich. — The story of how a 64 year old Hillsdale county farmer, worried about the office of price administration demands for payment of overcharges on a tractor he had sold at auction, committed suicide in despondency was disclosed here Saturday.

Mrs. Ray Van Wert, 68, widow of the farmer, who died May 26 after taking poison, related incidents leading to her husband's death in a statement notarized June 3 by Carl H. Thiem, a Reading bank official.

Mrs. Van Wert's statement said her husband sold his farm a mile north of Cambria, Hillsdale county, on Feb. 15. He sold his personal property and farm machinery, including a tractor, at an auction March 10.

Visit to Farm Described

Ten days later, the statement related, OPA officials from the Hillsdale office called at the Van Wert farm and questioned the farmer about the tractor being sold for $436.50 more than the ceiling price.

Van Wert was summoned to the Detroit, Mich., OPA office, along with Auctioneer Conrad Wirick of Cambria, on April 17, and told by OPA officials to pay three times the $436.50 overcharge, or $1,310.70, the statement asserted.

He was given an option, however of paying $875.80 if he settled out of court, the widow's story related.

Husband's Fear Told

Mrs. Van Wert's statement disclosed that her husband was asked by his attorney, L. D. Walworth of Hillsdale, to appear in his office May 23 concerning the case.

The attorney later disclosed he intended asking Van Wert for more information about the case. The widow said, however, that her husband—already worried—feared his attorney was going to confirm OPA orders to pay the overcharge.

"This had been a constant worry and drove Mr. Van Wert in a despondent condition," the widow's statement asserted. "It broke him down in health and mind and, as a result, caused his death by taking poison on the 26th day of May, 1944."

Odd-Lot Shoe Sale Announced by OPA

Washington, June 12—(AP)—Shoe purchasers will have a chance at about seven million pairs ration-free from July 10 to July 29 during a national "odd-lot" sale, the Office of Price Administration announced today.

And the shoes must cost at least 25 per cent less than their price on June 1, OPA declared.

This "odd-lot" sale will include footwear for men and women, boys' sizes 1 to 6, but not children's, misses' and little boys' shoes which were included in the temporarily ration-free shoes for three weeks in May.

Less than 1.5 per cent of the estimated total supply of shoes for 1941 will be included in the July ration-free sales, OPA said.

State Police Capture Two German Escapees

Indianapolis, June 12—(AP)—Jules Janisch, 23, and Rudy Scholz, 19, German prisoners of war who escaped last Tuesday from camp at Hoopesville, Ill., were recaptured early today near Carlisle in Sullivan county.

State Police said a third prisoner, Herman Kuzel, 37, was still at large and was being sought near Altian, Ind. The prisoners were captured while attempting to break through a blockade in a stolen car. State police had set up the 25-man blockade around a wooded section in which the men had been hiding.

Hitler's Atlantic Wall Was Likely Erected in Hurry

BY LEWIS HAWKINS, Associated Press Correspondent Representing the Combined Allied Press.

On the Normandy Beachhead, June 8—(Delayed)—(AP)—Much of the Germans' Atlantic Wall defenses which I have seen were evidently eleventh-hour preparations made months after the nazis started boasting about their impregnability.

For example, the whiteness of concrete in one thick-walled field gun casemate which I examined indicated it was built only two or three months ago at the most. Reconnaissance photos showed beaches were not given their real obstacle quota until after April 9. This was partly because this was a low priority area compared with port zones, and partly because the winter was so bad in the English Channel that obstacles would not stay in place.

These obstacles are first thing to impress you when the tide goes out, baring that fateful belt of nearly a half mile of flat sand which our men had to cross under merciless fire.

They are not elaborate but the sturdy steel contraptions called "element C" placed just above low water, or steel or wooden stakes with logs propped against them, are devilishly effective, particularly with the surf hiding them and tossing boats about, and from 10 to 20 per cent of them are topped with mines similar to the teller type which tears up tanks.

I roused myself from a foxhole about 10 yards above highwater last night to watch a string of "ducks" come in close to high tide. They moved silently in the moonlight until suddenly there was a muffled boom and a tower of water rose fast and fell slowly. Then there was just a gap in the evenly spaced line of amphibians. As nearly as I could tell in moonlight at a hundred yards, there were no survivors.
